

Mori and the Lost Moonlight

A ready-to-use story adventure for ages 4-7

Cover illustration placeholder

Final art: Mori holding the Lantern of Little Lights in the story forest.

A little light for every brave beginning.

Parent Quick-Start Guide

Print the pages, choose a calm spot, and begin with the story.

Setup time

1 minute if printed already. Put out crayons, colored pencils, or markers.

Materials

Printed kit pages. Coloring tools. A calm place to read and draw.

Short version

Read the story. Complete the Moonlight Path. Finish with one small light.

Full version

Read the story. Do all three activities. Finish the Little Light Keeper Badge.

Helpful prompts

What do you notice in Mori's lantern? Which clue should Mori follow? What is one small step you can try today?

Gentle closing ritual

Hold up the finished page and say: "Mori says thank you, Little Light Keeper." Then repeat: "A little light for every brave beginning."

PAGE 1

The Missing Glow

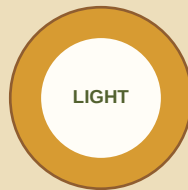

Illustration placeholder

Mori in the story forest holding the lantern. One glow space is empty.

Mori held up the Lantern of Little Lights.

One light twinkled.

One light hummed.

But one little glow was gone.

PAGE 2

The Leaf That Shimmered

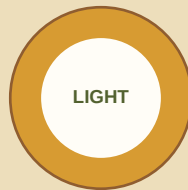

Illustration placeholder

Close view of a mossy leaf with a tiny moonlight shimmer trail.

On a mossy leaf, Mori saw a tiny shimmer.

"Maybe the moonlight left a path," Mori whispered.

So Mori took one small step.

PAGE 3

The Quiet Path

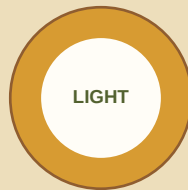

Illustration placeholder

Mori pauses at a gentle forked path. Soft shadows, no scary darkness.

The path became very quiet.

Mori held the lantern close.

"I feel a little unsure," said Mori.

Mori breathed in.

Mori breathed out.

PAGE 4

Three Little Clues

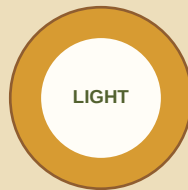

Illustration placeholder

Three clues on the forest floor: feather, moon stone, sleepy seed.

Then Mori found three little clues.

A silver feather.

A moon-shaped stone.

And a sleepy seed.

"Which one needs the light?" Mori wondered.

PAGE 5

The Sleepy Seed

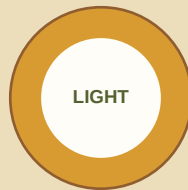

Illustration placeholder

A tiny seed under a leaf blanket with moonlight beside it.

Mori leaned close to the sleepy seed.
The missing moonlight glowed beside it.
"I wanted to grow," whispered the seed,
"but beginning felt too big."

PAGE 6

One Little Light

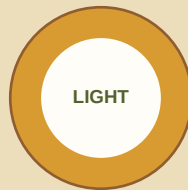

Illustration placeholder

The lantern sends one gentle warm glow toward the sleepy seed.

Mori smiled softly.

"We can begin small."

Not too bright.

Not too fast.

Just one little light.

PAGE 7

A Brave Beginning

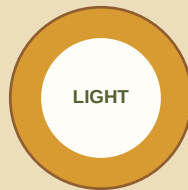

Illustration placeholder

A tiny sprout begins. Moonlight returns to Mori's lantern.

The seed gave a tiny stretch.

The moonlight sparkled back into Mori's lantern.

Mori whispered,

"A little light for every brave beginning."

PAGE 8

Little Light Keeper

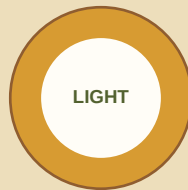

Illustration placeholder

Mori faces the reader with the glowing lantern and badge motif.

Mori carried the lantern home.

The story forest glowed softly.

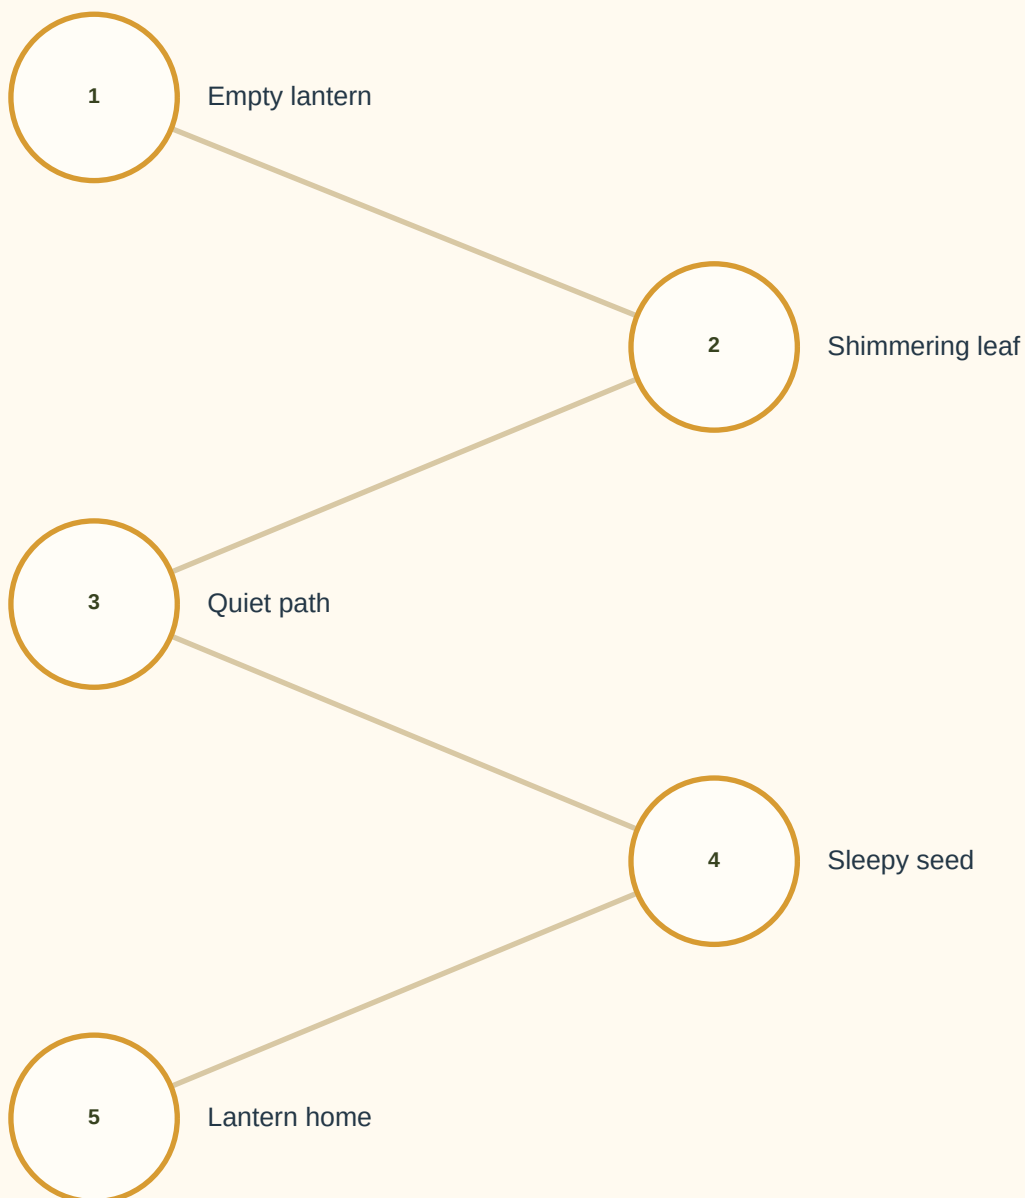

"Thank you, Little Light Keeper,"

Mori said.

"You helped the little light find its way."

Help Mori Follow the Moonlight Path

Color one light at each stop. Can you help Mori remember the way?

Parent prompt

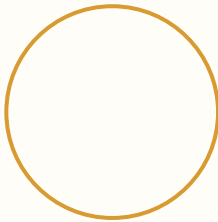

Which stop came first? Which stop came last?

Which Clue Needs the Light?

Circle one clue for Mori to follow. There is no wrong answer.

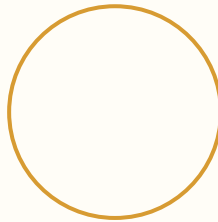

Silver feather

Placeholder icon: feather

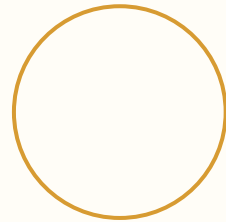

Moon-shaped stone

Placeholder icon: moon stone

Sleepy seed

Placeholder icon: seed

Draw one more clue

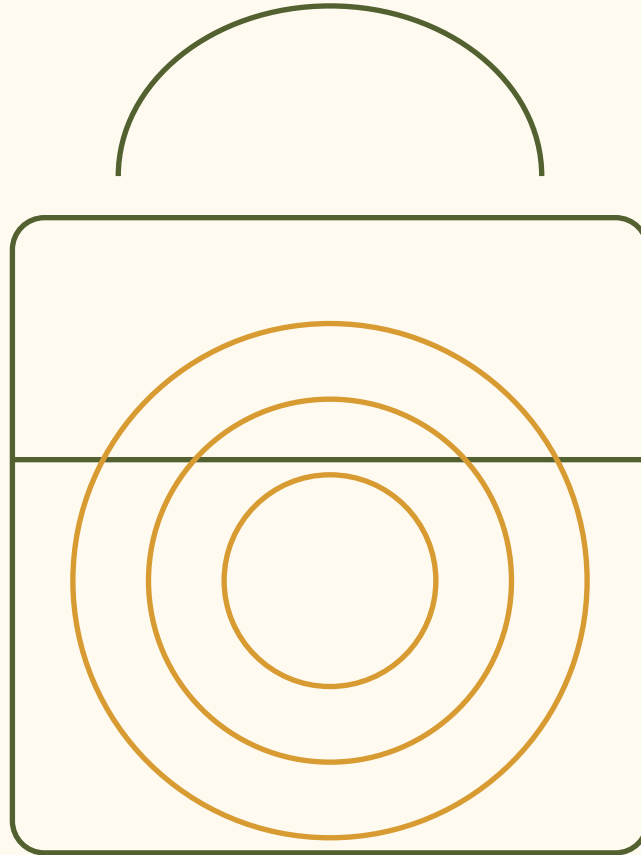

Older children can draw another clue for Mori here.

Parent prompt

Tell me about your choice.

Make Mori's Lantern Glow

Color Mori's little light. Draw the glow inside the lantern.

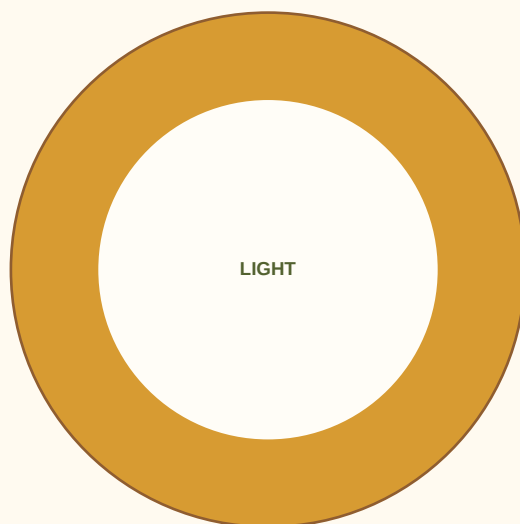

Finish this with words or a picture

My little light can help me begin by:

Parent prompt

What is one small step you can try?

Little Light Keeper

I helped Mori carry the little light home.

Name: _____

Date: _____

A little light for every brave beginning.

Parent line

I noticed you helped Mori finish the mission.